

Ryan Shazier
Miss Skirtich
13 December 2017
English 12: British Literature

"Macbeth" Thesis Paper

Shakespeare demonstrates ambition versus greed in "Macbeth" through the witches' prophesy, corruption of power, and deteriorating relationships.

Shakespeare demonstrates ambition versus greed in "Macbeth" through the witches' prophesy.

Additionally, Shakespeare demonstrates ambition versus greed in "Macbeth" through corruption of power.

Moreover, Shakespeare demonstrates ambition versus greed in "Macbeth" through deteriorating relationships.

To conclude, Shakespeare demonstrates ambition versus greed in "Macbeth" through the witches' prophesy, corruption of power, and deteriorating relationships.

- Shakespeare exhibits potential toxicity of relationships in "Macbeth" through the characters of Lady Macbeth, Macbeth, and King Duncan.
- Shakespeare incorporates deception in "Macbeth" through the characters of the witches, Macbeth, and Lady Macbeth.
- Shakespeare displays the deterioration of one's morals and their effects in "Macbeth" by falling into deception, growing greed, and Catholic guilt.
- Shakespeare manifests mental deterioration in "Macbeth" through corruption, paranoia, and catastrophe.

- Shakespeare demonstrates insanity and anxiety in "Macbeth" through the characters of Macbeth, Lady Macbeth, and Malcolm.

- Shakespeare reveals mental deterioration in "Macbeth" through the characters of Lady Macbeth, Macbeth, and Macduff.

- Shakespeare demonstrates corruption of power in "Macbeth" through manipulation, insanity, and ambition.

- Shakespeare displays deception and deceit in "Macbeth" through the characters of the witches, Macbeth, and Lady Macbeth.

- Shakespeare exhibits deception in "Macbeth" through the characters of Macbeth, Lady Macbeth, and the witches.

- Shakespeare portrays deception in "Macbeth" through the characters of Lady Macbeth and Macbeth, the witches, and Malcolm.

- Shakespeare displays deceit and deception in "Macbeth" through the characters of Lady Macbeth, Macbeth, and the witches.

- Shakespeare displays deception in "Macbeth" through the prophecies, betrayal, and murder.

- Shakespeare demonstrates Catholic guilt in "Macbeth" through insanity, paranoia, and corruption of power.
- Shakespeare displays toxic relationships in "Macbeth" through Lady Macbeth's downfall, Macbeth and the witches, and Macbeth versus Macduff.
- Shakespeare exhibits deception in "Macbeth" through manipulation, hidden agendas, and underlying ambitions.
- Shakespeare demonstrates guilt in "Macbeth" through Lady Macbeth's dreams, mental deterioration, and paranoia.
- Shakespeare incorporates deception in "Macbeth" through the characters of Macbeth, Lady Macbeth, and the witches.